4. Chameleons cannot generate their own body heat so when they want to warm themselves, their colour will darken to absorb more heat from the sun.

A) Once their colours darken, chameleons can get more heat from the sun, but to warm themselves much better, they have to produce their own body heat.

B) When chameleons transform themselves into a dark colour, they take in more heat from the sun and warm themselves easily, which helps them control their own body heat.

C) Chameleons can warm themselves with the heat from the sun thanks to the dark colours they change into, and that is why they do not need to generate their own body heat.

D) Because chameleons are not capable of providing their own body heat, their colour gets darker so that more heat is received from the sun, and they can warm themselves.

E) Chameleons' body heat is linked to dark colours because when they are darker, more heat from the sun can be absorbed, otherwise they cannot warm themselves.

5. English is a mother tongue for many people in the world, who are increasingly outnumbered by those who learn English as a foreign language.

A) English, either the mother tongue or foreign language of many people, is being spoken in almost every part of the world.

B) Although English is being learnt as a foreign language more widely than ever, there are also a large amount of people whose first language is English.

C) Lots of people around the world are native speakers of English; however, the number of learners of English as a foreign language has far surpassed the number of its native speakers.

D) Throughout the world, there is a significant gap between people who speak English as their first language and those who learn it as a foreign language.

E) In the past, the number of English native speakers was greater than those who had been learning English as a foreign language, but now it is not the case.

6. Regardless of how we form an impression of another person, we may relatively quickly develop ideas about what the person is like.

A) No matter how we form an idea about people, we are rather quick in developing thoughts about their personality.

B) We may be relatively fast in criticizing another person's character concerning how we form impressions of him or her.

C) The idea we develop about another person has relatively much to do with the ways we form impressions of him or her.

D) We are generally quick at developing an idea about people's personalities irrespective of the ways we form impressions of them.

E) Even if we may have formed impressions of others in different ways, they mostly depend on ideas we develop fairly quickly.

7. Since we are both perpetrators and victims of environmental damage, humanity's survival ultimately depends on our ability to preserve the natural world.

A) The future of humankind is finally to be decided by our resolve to preserve the environment as we are negatively affected when we damage it.

B) The reason why we destroy the natural world and are afflicted with its damage is that our survival relies on our capability to protect the environment.

C) If we destroy nature and are badly affected by such devastation, our ability to protect the environment will eventually rely on the survival of humanity.

D) As we are the ones who both destroy the environment and suffer from this destruction, the existence of humanity finally rests on how well we maintain the natural world.

E) Given that we both destroy the natural world and suffer from it, our power to protect the environment ultimately fails to save our lives.
